Chair of the Board 2020 A Message from Kendall S. Kerby

The year 2020 brought with it not only unprecedented challenges, but also a renewed determination to meet them. Over and over this year we have seen people in our community answering the call to give in extraordinary ways. From our essential workers, to healthcare professionals, volunteers and donors, we have witnessed the incredible power that we have as a community when we all work, together, to meet the challenges we face.

I hope you will take some time to reflect on the year we all experienced, and to feel the gratitude that I have felt for the many people who have answered the call to help. In this report you will read about WCF's efforts to bring folks together to respond and rebuild during the pandemic through the Community Emergency Response Fund and the Greater Williamsburg Small Business Relief Fund, which were made possible thanks to strong partnerships with donors, local government, and nonprofits.

This past year has also mobilized us as a community to build a more equitable and inclusive greater Williamsburg. The Foundation is committed to working toward these important goals, under the leadership of our Board and Diversity Work Group, and in partnership with local leaders who share our vision.

I hope you will join me in gratitude, with the utmost respect, for all of the people who have stepped up this year, to help sustain our community through unprecedented times.

▲ The Community Emergency Response Fund enabled Virginia Peninsula Foodbank, Faith in Action and The Arc of Greater Williamsburg to step up and help provide food to those in need during the pandemic.

As COVID-19 brought life to a halt in the spring of 2020, WCF worked quickly with community leaders to create the Community Emergency Response Fund. The goal: to help those residents most in need due to the economic downturn. 206 donors contributed over $234,407 to the effort.

In the face of unprecedented challenges, our community stepped up to respond — with compassion, collaboration, creativity, and amazing resolve. Williamsburg House of Mercy pivoted to a drive-through food pantry, serving hundreds daily. The Arc of Greater Williamsburg and Williamsburg Faith in Action partnered to use Arc vans to transport food and supplies to homebound seniors and others who could not get to the store. Williamsburg Area Meals on Wheels dramatically expanded its reach to feed low-income neighbors staying in motels, while also partnering with WJCC Public Schools to make sure kids at home did not go hungry.

Our community truly stepped up this past year, and WCF is committed to providing more grants from this fund in 2021 as the community works to rebuild.

Greater Williamsburg Small Business Relief Fund

Recognizing the devastating impact of the pandemic on the local economy, WCF collaborated with public and private partners to help small businesses save jobs, meet payroll, and pay for rent and PPE. The Greater Williamsburg Small Business Relief Fund provided $3,000 grants to 145 small businesses, in partnership with the Virginia 30 Day Fund.

Like many other businesses during the pandemic, Bicast Laser stepped up to help our community by converting their production to make protective face shields. They were grateful for their small business grant, which helped keep their staff working.

Small Business Fund Partners

145 Businesses Helped

Oleta Coach Lines has operated charter bus and chauffer services since 1986. "We have never seen anything like this. It was devastating," said president and CEO Howard Smith, Sr., who received a grant from the small business fund to help Oleta stay afloat when the economy shut down. Smith is thrilled to be able to offer their services again, such as transporting William & Mary students and athletes. ▼

Environment & Conservation

Ensuring Our Unique Sense Of Place

For many Williamsburg residents, 2020 became the year to get outside. As we were forced to social distance, we took to the walking trails, parks, and waterways all over Williamsburg. The pandemic reminded us of the incredible value of these public green spaces, and the responsibility to preserve them for future generations.

For Joe and Leanne Harrow, it's a responsibility they take seriously. Using their donor-advised fund at WCF, they support The Historic Virginia Land Conservancy, which recently celebrated 30 years as a nonprofit. The Land Conservancy has protected 13,555 acres of land including the Williamsburg Winery, Mainland Farm, Governors Land, Greenswamp Farm, Church on the Main and the entry corridor to Colonial Williamsburg.

Protecting the beauty and character of our community is at the core of their mission. Preserving land has the added value of protecting the bounty of the region's natural, scenic, agricultural, and historic resources — and is vital to our community's health.

Joe and Leanne see their giving as an investment in the future: "Knowing that our great-grandchildren will reap the benefits of the thoughtful decisions we make today to ensure our unique sense of place endures, is why we are proud supporters of the Historic Virginia Land Conservancy."

Arts & Culture

Exploring More Creative Avenues

Thanks to a grant from An Occasion for the Arts Fund, Lafayette High School students will now be able to learn more printmaking techniques using a new printmaking press. This press will help hundreds of students each year in art foundation, photography, printmaking, and AP studio art courses at the high school.

"As a visual art department, we want to teach students how to use a variety of pieces of equipment and continue to develop their voice within their own creative process," says art teacher Liz Bahl-Moore. "We want our students to explore as many avenues to the creative process as possible."

An Occasion for the Arts Fund provides grants each year for visual arts programs that have a broad impact, such as those arts programs in the public schools. These grants have also supported a regional juried art exhibit, as well as art-based therapy using pottery.

Scholarship

Honoring An Angel on Earth

If you ask Clint Brooks about his mother, the late Blanche Koch Brooks, he will tell you he revered her, “and she deserved to be revered.” After a long life of caregiving — for her siblings, her own children, her co-workers, and students at Virginia Wesleyan, where she was a house mother — Blanche exhibited tenacity through hardship and remarkable compassion that left a mark on so many lives. Her family calls her “an angel on earth.”

Several years after her passing, Clint and his wife, Marcia, a retired WJCC teacher, chose to honor Blanche’s memory with a scholarship for a female student with financial need.

“I was the first in my family to complete college, with the help of a scholarship,” says Brooks, “so I liked the idea of helping someone else coming out of high school.”

Recently Marcia and Clint have made the Blanche Koch Brooks Fund a beneficiary of Clint’s IRA to permanently honor his “mama” even after his own lifetime. “When I learned we could easily change the beneficiary designation, I thought that was something we could do to help her name live on, and to help create opportunities for others that she was never able to have.”

Leaving a Legacy

Giving Back To Their Hometown

For many people, 2020 was definitely a year for re-focusing on priorities. What do we value most in a year when we have lost so much? For Reggie and Ling Ngo, the values of family, education, and community rose to the top, leading them to create a family fund at the Williamsburg Community Foundation. “They have a philosophy that they want to see the benefits of their gift during their lifetime, to witness the impact that gift will make,” says their son Bernie Ngo, who was raised in Williamsburg and spent his entire career here.

The Ngo Family Fund will support faith formation at St. Bede Catholic Church, where Reggie and Ling have been parishioners for over 50 years. WCF will manage the funds and distributions to St. Bede over time, and the Ngo’s adult children will be able to continue making grants out of the fund in the future. “I really share my parents’ love of this community,” says Bernie. “I am very proud of them. We are so thankful for the stewardship that the Foundation brings to manage their gift for years to come.”

▲ Reggie and Ling Ngo, along with their children, created a family fund to benefit St. Bede Church.
